A Hint To Our Towns

Townpeople, says a Western farm paper, are notoriously ready to give advice to the farmers, and, it asks, why should not the farmer who takes pride in his farm and his home give a little good advice to his friend and neighbor? A hundred dealer and hardware merchant. It therefore proceeds, on behalf of its farmer subscribers, to tell the townpeople some good truths.

Trees are flowers, beautiful houses with trees, and towns, are, says this paper, to be found in every country; every farming district in the world has the woods and villages as landmarks for beauty and most of them are becoming uglier and more hideous with the years. Unattractive shacks in many cases to begin with, ramshackle buildings and sheds, down-at-the-heels fences and weedy, neglected gardens—how many of the country towns in the world answer the description?

While the cities, and farms, and thousands have gone in extensively for the planting of trees and the beautifying of the surroundings in which the people pass their lives, very few towns and villages have made any effort to make them attractive. Most of them present the appearance of a group of semi-barbaric huts to travel through, having no taste or sense of remaining permanently and establishing themselves, according to the town. They give the impression of "boorish" oil and mining towns where anything is good enough for the time being until the boom bursts and the town dies.

Townpeople are frequently better than these town and village streets with their gardens, lawns and grass with grass and weeds, and with backyards and lawns containing growing gardens for refreshment and shade. In such surroundings it is little wonder that the seen steel windows remain unheated and in a generally unkempt, untidy condition. A city store which presented the indications of sloth would drive away rather than invite customers. Yet many town and village merchants wonder why people pass them by.

Complaint is also voiced because of the difficulty of obtaining and retaining the services of qualified help in these smaller communities. But why should any soft-speaking, ambitious young man or woman settle down to spend their lives in a town or village where the people lack even sufficient enterprise to plant their gardens, tidy up their premises, and convert their home products into cash? There is no room for trees, and their private gardens find room and nest vegetable gardens.

Speaking for the farmers, the paper already quoted says: "A clean, bright cheerful town certainly makes a better bid for business than a shabby and ugly one, and when everybody has a car the progressive town will draw the trade." Absolutely true! Shakespeare said, "The apparel oft proclaims the man." And so it is with towns. A well-kept, unattractive-looking building collection of buildings is not apt to impress a prospective buyer as new citizen as being the home of up-to-date merchants whose good value for his money can be obtained.

People should also appreciate the fact that the banker and the rapid extension of systems of good roads is working a revolution in the tourist trade—and a lucrative trade it is. Motor tourists arriving at a neglected looking town quickly pass on, but a town of neat, nicely painted buildings, well-trimmed streets, trimly kept gardens, and an attractive little square or park invites a stop. It is in such towns tourists stop for the night, and go to the hotel, and go to the theatre, and go to the dance hall.

Tourists will come to this country, either to travel or nothing, but often in the remark heard: "I hate to live in a town like that." On the other hand, when one of our all too few little garden towns is reached, people are heard to comment on its attractiveness and to say: "Now there is a place I wouldn't mind living in."

Probably the reason why nothing is done to improve the appearance of most places is fear of the cost. But experience has demonstrated over and over again that the cost of planting trees, of laying out a small park of keeping the town neat, is comparatively small, while the resulting benefits are large, yielding a dividend in the form of increased trade, for, after all, these things are practical, direct, positive investments just as much as is the purchase of advertising equipment.

And if the community as a whole improves the appearance of the streets and paths up, such action becomes infections and very quickly invades other citizens put their private grounds and buildings into shape.

Certainly there is a grand opportunity open to a few public-spirited men and women in most of our Western towns and villages to render real service to their communities by beautifying Town Beautiful crusades.

A railroad official unloaded a car of steers in Oklahoma and watered them. Then he found "there wasn't room enough for them in the same car."

Short faces with eyes far apart are said to be characteristic of people with musical talent.

English Teachers Visit Canada

His Majesty Conveys Message to Departing Pedagogues

The party of 100 school teachers from Britain who are visiting Canada, received the following message from His Majesty the King before their departure:

"His Majesty congratulates the League upon the happy conception of the international school which will be of great service to education in Canada and to gain an insight into her history, development and general resources. The King wishes that the results of this conference will be reflected in the teacher's further efforts, not only on the teachers themselves but also on those who will in the future come under their influence and instruction and upon the students who will benefit by the knowledge and the great experience."

From his recollections of Canada and his warm-hearted people, His Majesty can assure, the teachers of the Empire that the welcome which they will receive and with whom God-speed and an honorable stay in that vast and beautiful country!"

The message was received with enthusiasm by the teachers abroad the Empress of Scotland, which they saluted for Canada.

Homestead Entries

Decline in homestead entries as the settlement of the west proceeds is interesting to contemplate. The years 1905-06 and 1910-11, the two largest years in history, saw 2,000,000 and 1,500,000 respectively.

In 1921, 2,172 homesteads filed on Saskatchewan lands.

RETAILERS WOULD TAX MAIL ORDER BUSINESS IN WEST

Vancouver—Retailers' contention that the stamp tax on cheques and receipts, protesting against the extra charge made by some manufacturers and wholesalers for boxes and cartons; recommending a tax on mail-order business which would be distributed through the mail, was carried, and amending the constitution, were passed by the convention of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada held here.

Spurred discussions took place on the question of income tax and on the egg grading regulations.

The question of the income tax was brought up by the Quebec delegation, who recommended that it be voted to take a stand against the tax. It was, however, referred to the Dominion board, which will take action after a survey of the wishes of the provincial boards of inquiry.

After the discussion proposed a resolution to request the government to allow country dealers to buy and sell ungraded eggs under the consideration that they would grade all eggs for retail sale. This was referred to the board, which had been appointed to deal with that resolution recommended against it. After discussion, the matter was referred back to the committee and will be brought up again.

Riflemen Prepare To Attack Holy City

Leader of Riflemen Getting Ready to Play Last Card

Fox French Morocco.—Abd-el-Krim, director of the plan of the National Legion, returned to his posting ready according to latest indications, to play his last card in the shape of a drive on the holy city of Ouezzan, about 60 miles northwest of his objective, Fez.

The Legion, which has been working is doing everything necessary to do with the expected drive, sending reinforcements to vital points, posting heavy artillery around Ouezzan, constructing lines of tanks and armoured cars. In reserve, they can be dispatched rapidly wherever they are needed.

Prolonged French artillery fire and bombing aeroplanes have kept the rebels from attacking at a point of Bagh Alha. In the situation there is difficult owing to the fatigues of the garrison and in insufficient water supply.

May Develop Zinc Industry

U. S. Syndicate Trying to Discover Main Deposit Near Sudbury

Toronto—Prospects are bright for the development of a great new industry in northern Ontario. If the efforts of a big United States syndicate to locate the main zinc deposit in the Sudbury area succeed, the nickel district are successful, according to information secured at the mines department.

Discovery of hitherto unsuspected deposits of zinc of good quality in the Sudbury nickel districts came to a group of prospectors who were pursuing the hunt for coal in northern Ontario.

Welcome Mount Logan Climbers

Conquerors of Canada's Highest Peak Return to Vancouver

Vancouver—The conquerors of one of the few peaks of Mount Logan and as greyhounds from the hardships of their successful scaling of Canada's most formidable peak, Captain A. H. Macmillan, R.C.M.P., leader of the expedition, Lieut.-Col. W. F. Foster, D.S.O., of Vancouver, H. F. Lambert, of Ottawa, and Henry Hall, Jr., of Boston, returned to Vancouver by train yesterday. They received a memorable welcome.

Except for Mr. Lambert, none of the mountaineers displays any physical evidence of hardships. Mr. Lambert, owing to the frost-bitten feet, arrived with his feet still encased in ice-covers. He is still under treatment.

Col. Foster, the local member of the expedition, declared "there is nothing more to be said about our trip than has been written already."

Declares Wheat Pool Success

Could Not Expect More For First Year

Winnipeg, Hon. Oberley

Regina.—The Saskatchewan Wheat Pool met with all the success it could expect. It has won the confidence of the farmers, who have accepted the scheme after the Liberal party, which had sought to have the appropriations for new warships reduced, on the ground that there was no naval war in sight, and, therefore, there was no need to burden the already heavily taxed farmers with additional expenditure of $500,000.

Ramsey MacDonald, former Labor premier, moved a reduction of the shipbuilding vote, but the house rejected his proposal by a vote of 276 to 140.

There was a great deal of talk about potential trouble in the Pacific, but Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer, and the other government spokesmen steered clear of this subject in their contributions to the debate.

The chancellor, in his official statement respecting the new cruiser building programme, said there was only one instance—that the fleet was wearing out.

Mr. Churchill took occasion to repeat one of his persistent remarks, that Britain having now decided to build a fleet equal to that of any other country, intended to maintain her sea forces not inferior to those of any country in the world.

Several speakers with no government portfolio to incite to vagueness and generalities had much to say about possible trouble between the United States and Japan, and also about the tendency of the French to increase their submarine strength.

Provincial Finance

In defending their financial policy Hon. J. E. Brownlee and other members of the government invariably compare their administration with that of the previous government, justifying what is charged as extravagance by the comparison. But during the last term of the liberal government inflation was at its height and governments, banks and individuals alike were guilty of indulgence in the way of financing from which the country at large is still suffering. But since the present government has been in power there has been no illusions as to what was happening or was going to happen. Land and other real property has depreciated in value one half and chaffers have almost ceased to have any value. How, then, can the over expenditures of the prior government have any bearing on the present situation or as a criterion in any way of present expenditures. Even if the conditions were the same a group pledged to economy would scarcely have been expected to add to the public debt year after year. But when public spending is the absolute minimum of decreasing taxation by some means is not resembling to have cabinet ministers insisting that they under entirely different circumstances by another government. If the liberal government was extravagant and judging by developments following their regime they undoubtedly were, must we continue to be extravagant for all time?

NOTES AND COMMENT.

—Great Britain is continuing her old policy of preparedness in reference to the navy in spite of strenuous opposition. The war lords are hard to control.

There are such conflicting reports of this year's crop that wheat prices continue unsettled with a tendency towards weakness. Crop estimates and reports are fine things in their way but are more or less unreliable.

The United States is embarking upon an extensive campaign against smugglers of liquor, drugs and aliens. Motor cars are to patrol all boundaries and it is hoped with the assistance of present machinery to make success of the attempt.

Alberta coal began to arrive in Ontario last week and the balance of the 25,000 ton is now on the way. Ontario may be a possible market for Alberta coal but there are opportunities much closer to home which have not been taken full advantage of in the past.

The 5.4 beer introduced in Ontario is said to be a failure as its consumption is falling off and bootlegging is more rampant than ever. The beer parlors may have their faults but at least they practically eliminated bootlegging.

Hon. George Headley now has a new plan whereby rural districts will be provided with a co-operative plan for securing dental and medical services where it is so desired. The travelling medical and dental clinic which was inaugurated by the department of health a year or so ago is said to have been very successful and to have provided these necessities to people in outlying districts at a cost which was not prohibitive. Under the new plan this Co-operative system may be adopted by any district which it has been deemed.

Five districts in Alberta which have voted on local option have carried the proposition while in three others it has been defeated. Residents in the local option districts may still purchase liquor and beer under permit, the new name being the only thing affected.

More than twenty prisons, mostly a third of the total, have been closed in England, while the same institutions in the United States are still increasing. It might be well for those who are urging unrestricted immigration into Canada to consider whether it would not be better to become more careful in this respect.

It is wonderful what can be claimed as "independence" when things political are under consideration. The Western News, a recently established weekly at Edmonton, has such a claim as if such a thing is possible more pertinent than the U. F. A. which is nothing but an organization. A newspaper like the individual is entitled to its opinions, there is something wrong when it attempts to do its abrogation.

Government Crop Report

Facing the disappointing prospect of experiencing a greatly reduced crop from that at first anticipated, as a result of the ravaging effects of wind and great heat, farmers of Southern Alberta are commencing the cutting of their wheat the present week. Cutting operations all over the southern part of the province will be general within the next week, and in the balance of the province about August 15th cutting will be finished and two weeks earlier than last year. Limited quantities of grain already threshed out bear out indications of the past three weeks that yields will be again larger areas in the south. Some samples sent have shown unusually large heads in some cases.

The southeast district will experience the lightest yields. The southeast district as far north as the northern line of the Canadian National Railways at Lethbridge and the Lake line report very favorable conditions, and expect a good crop. Other sections only fair to average conditions.

For the central district, good crops are anticipated much heavier in many parts than last year, but still suffering decreased yield as a result of drought. As an example of the damage done even in the best districts by the drought, the statement is quoted from a farmer in the Senator district, who states that the effect of the drought was a loss of ten bushels an acre, with the result that the forty bushel crop they anticipated in his district would be out to thirty. He states that to divers along the road the crops look well, but a close examination shows the damage done. Beans which come now are too late to enjoy the frost opening crop.

In the more central districts north to Edmonton and immediate vicinity, the crops have suffered somewhat from drought conditions, but the amount may have been of considerable benefit. In the Peace River country, particularly north of the river, the situation has been much improved by the recent rains there.

Alberta's Freight Rate Case.

The province of Alberta will present a united front to the Railway Commission on the question of freight rates when that body commences its general investigation into the question.

At a conference held in Edmonton last Wednesday at the instance of the Alberta Government, at which representatives of the Boards of Trade of Edmonton and Calgary and of other interests were present, the following general points were decided upon for presentation to the Commission. Alberta's counsel in the enquiry will be S. B. Woods, K.C.

(1) That the standard of mileage freight tariff scale should as far as possible be on the same basis all over Canada.

(2) That the distributing town tariffs should continue as at present, namely, 85 per cent of the standard mileage basis in the West.

(3) That the charge for any commodity to Calgary and Edmonton from Eastern Canada should not be greater than that charged from the same points to Vancouver.

(4) That the basis of export rates on grain and flour applicable to Fort William should apply to the Pacific coast.

(5) Reduction in coal rates to develop markets east and west.

(6) Adjustment of export rates via local seaports in order to develop further markets for the primary products of Alberta, and necessary reduction in import rates to meet the requirements of the Province.

(7) Adjustment of class rates on the shorter C. N. R. Mileage.

(8) Adjustment of rates as between distributing centres.

The master of details in regard to the equalization of rates generally and the securing of commodity rates suitable to the needs was left in the hands of a small committee consisting of the Chairman, Mr. J. H. Hanna, Secretary Calgary Board of Trade; A. Chand, Supervisor of Traffic for the Alberta Government, and Mr. S. B. Woods, Counsel for the province of Alberta.

A thorough discussion of the many points at issue took place and an amicable solution reached by the committee in all cases. All interested expressed themselves as well pleased with the results of the meeting.

Ten Binder Ifs.

According to farm machinery experts at the Nebraska Agricultural College, a careful observation of the following ifs will secure better operation and less trouble:

1. If the machine travels with a jerky motion, main drive chain is too loose or it may be dry, try a little oil on it.

2. If the slats rip off the canvas the elevators are not square.

3. If the knocker-hook is rusty and rough it will not work properly. Polish it with a fine emery paper.

4. If the binder attachment is not timed properly it certainly will not work. Some binders are timed in as many as five places.

5. If the knocker-hook does not turn far enough to close the fingers on the twine, no knot will be tied. Look at the knocker pinion. It should not be worn.

6. If the twine slips through the cord-holding spring. It should take 10 pounds to pull the twine from the die.

7. If the die does not move far enough the knocker-hook grasps only one cord, hence a loose band.

8. If the needle is bent or out of shape there will be a loose end band. The needle is malleable iron and may be hammered back to shape.

9. If the twine is pulled from the hook before the knot tied try the knife, it may be dull.

10. If you wish to change the size of bundles do it with the bundle-size spring, not the tension or compression spring.

Sheltering Pigs From the Sun

(Experimental Farms Note.)

Growing pigs, especially sows, are very subject to sunburn if allowed to run in grass or straw without shade. A very effective shade has been provided at the Experimental Station at Rostherne in the following manner. In the spring of 1917, cananga seed was sown in twelve rows, four feet apart, across the top of the pig pasture and fenced to keep all stock out. The ground was kept carefully hoed till 1922 when further work could not be carried on because of the thick root system and the branches, which by this time shaded the ground sufficiently to smother weed growth. In 1919 the plants were thinned to one foot apart and the thinning sold to a nursery at 1 cent each, which netted $125. In 1922 the fence was removed, and the pigs allowed to use the shelter. It is in use now for the third season, and affords a very efficient and artistic shelter. Cattle, sheep and horses must be kept away from cananga because they seem to relish it as much as grass. Mature hogs will also eat it if pasture is not available.

North Faces Food Shortage

Sinking of Supply Ship Hardships for Trading Posts

Supply ship of the Hudson's Bay Company's trading posts in Ungava Bay, July 23, may result in a shortage of supplies at some of the far northern posts on the Labrador and Ungava Bay coasts, and the latest news from the North indicates that supplies are being sent in Hudson's and James bays.

The latter is now racing around the posts delivering supplies before resuming her scheduled journey to Baffin land.

Meanwhile, the crew and passengers of the wrecked Bayeskimo are aboard the supply ship, which is due to wreck will not be told until some of them return to civilization when the Naosuke's journey is done. Whether storm, ice pressure or a treacherous reef caused the shipwreck was revealed in the cablegram from the Naosuke.
